

Tips for adding Supporting Research to your ARTIFACTS Dashboard

- Strengthen your publication and evidence your findings with data.
- Enhance trust with provenance-secured research outputs.
- Make your work more discoverable and boost your citation impact.

To get started with ARTIFACTS, we invite you to watch this 4-minute video, or follow the step-by-step instructions below.

To begin, Login to ARTIFACTS, or sign up for your free account at artifacts.ai:

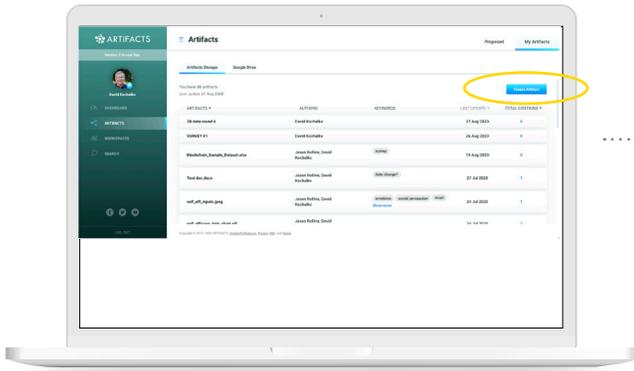

Registering artifacts and finding journals

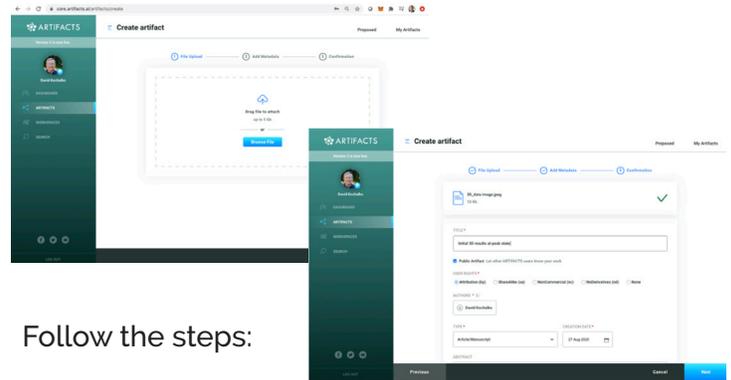

On the left-hand navigation panel, click on ARTIFACTS

In the upper right, click on My Artifacts tab.

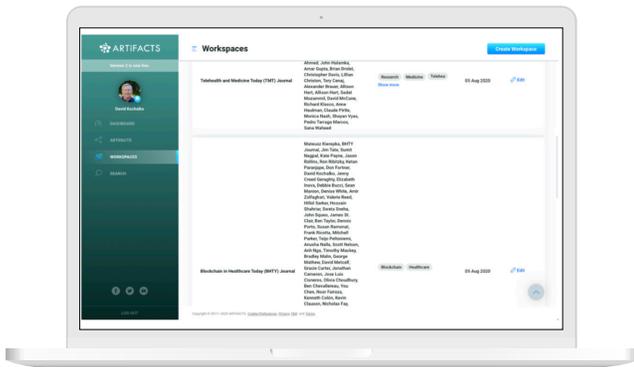

Click on the Create Artifact button.

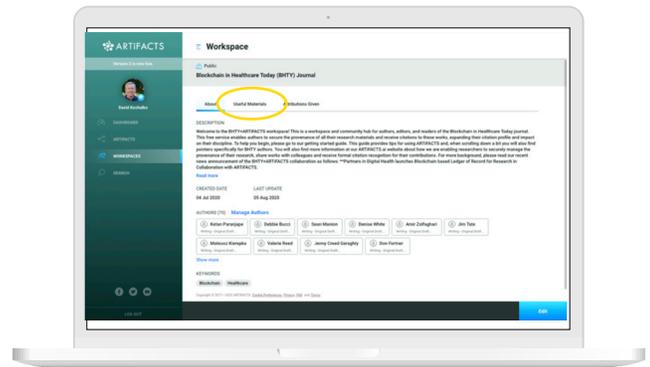

Follow the steps:

- 1) File Upload
- 2) Add Metadata (remember to check the "Public" box and select your CC by preference, so your data can be discovered and cited)
- 3) Confirmation

Click on the name of your journal Workspace to open it.

Click on the Useful Materials tab.

Click on the Add New button.

Find your file either by "Choosing" from your Artifacts or Search for it. Then select the file(s) and Save. This links them with the relevant dashboard so colleagues may discover and cite your work.
